Teen Workshop "From Scratch To Script"

FROM SCRATCH TO SCRIPT

Teaches you the ABC's of acting using her process called Primary Principles of Acting, which includes playful exercises and improvisation. All that you learn is applied to scenes and monologues which are performed before an audience of industry, friends and family at workshop's end.

Fall workshop scheduled for 2009:

Saturdays from 1–4pm

September 12–November 29

At TBG, 312 West 36th Street Studio 6A

Cost for 60 hrs: $400

Now offering discount incentives and scholarship program.

For over 35 years Paula has acted, directed, taught, coached and produced in New York City. She holds periodic Teen Master Classes in Kentucky at the long-standing Jenny Wiley Theater. Her philosophy is simple—"If you embrace a thing fully: heart, mind and dedication—you will achieve it". Her aim is to help the young actor understand what makes a character tick while having fun.

Her invaluable experience and joy of teaching is reflected in the comments of some of her students:

"It was clear from the beginning that Paula was not only a very skilled and intuitive acting teacher, but someone who cares deeply about nurturing each individual so they can realize their true potential." — Archie Whyld/Actor/London

"During the fast paced pilot season, Paula really helped me find a way to connect to the material that was thrown at me at a moments notice. In addition, Paula's improv experience is invaluable." — Elaine Marcos /Actress/Dancer (A Chorus Line)
